Stayed in a 3-room premium bed with friends (4 adults and 4 children) last week, and although not quite finished yet the cabin is quite cooked bad weather! We took a call from a representative on site a week before we arrived to warn us that we would not be able to access the roof terrace during our stay as Aria was disappointed with the building materials at the time I was quite disappointed but we were offered compensation which had already been refunded as promised and also with the weather bad we would not really use the roof anyway so that the win-win. We were the first guests to use our new lodge and let me tell you that they are truly stunning quality and finished to high specs. Both adults and children enjoyed using the hot tub and we had no complaints about the pitch at all, they will be even better when fully finished. The pool on the spot was heated and the kids liked it. No eatery yet, it should be finished at the end of the year. There is a pub and shop within 5 minutes walk, both are very nice. I only gave this place a 4 rating instead of 5 as they really shouldn't have started taking orders, if there was a risk they would let people with certain aspects of what they paid for, but when this place is finished it will be a wonderful site. If you are going here during the summer, have no fears, you will be pleasantly surprised. The image is added and the bite is shown to D. This only happened once. We went out and purchased additional cleaning products to clean the caravan as well as to remove odors. Yes, we ordered a friendly pet caravan as we have a dog, but this had to still be thoroughly cleaned. We also treat our dog for fleas, many did not. Carpets in your favorite caravan are not a good idea. I'm sure people don't bring pets also get allocated to this caravan? We decided to shorten our holiday short. We were offered a cottage but by the time it was suggested we only had 1 night left. There was no answer to our emails. Personally, it was as far away as advertised. I expected that the standards would be much better. Full summed up ansehenseitentransparentzFacebook liefert Informationen, mit denen du die Intention von Seiten besser verstehst.
